The question now is, will Japan go to war with Russia. That depends on whether Japan can catch Russia napping, or form a combine with some other power, which would encourage her to tackle the bear.

In Flanders the automobile is the whole thing, judging from its name. Here is what they call it: "Snelpardelooszoondeerspoorwegpetroolrijtuig." Dissect it and it pans out thus: "Snel," rapid; "paardeloos," horseless; "zoondeerspooweg," without rails; "petroolrijtuig," driven by petroleum."

The Spaniards are taking more solid satisfaction over the reverses to the British armies in South Africa than any people we know of, with the exception, perhaps, of the Boers themselves. They occasionally send telegrams of congratulatory, in the Spanish way, when the Boers hit the Brits a hard swipe.

Editor Caldwell, of the Charlotte Observer, who seems to have had some business with a bank while he was in London, saw some English bank notes and pronounces them quite clean. He is responsible for the statement that if a man drew a note at one window and deposited it at another, that note would never be paid out again but destroyed and a new one issued in its place. That's the way they get a hitch on the microbe.

"The Mascot" is the opera for Monday night, and at that performance a lady holding a special ladies' ticket will be admitted free if accompanied by a person holding a paid 50 cent ticket.

It has been the desire and rule of Messrs. Packard and Clayton, the owners of the company, to present their elaborate company at the lowest prices possible, considering the large expense they are at, and for this reason the prices here will be 15, 25, 35 and 50 cents.

In speaking of the company, the Norfolk Virginian says: "It is by far the best that has ever visited Norfolk, presenting the popular comic operas with a zeal and finish that is delightful and heartily enjoyed."

The bill to night will be the successful merry musical farce, "The Girl from Cleveland," by Harry B. Marshall. This bill, wherever produced, has been considered one of the strongest in Miss Paige's repertoire.

THE ATLANTIC YACHT CLUB.

Special Meeting to Consider the Matter of Repairing the Damage Done to the Club House by the Storm.

By authority of the by-laws, a special meeting of the Atlantic Yacht Club was called last night at 8:15 o'clock at the room of the Board of Audit and Finance, at the City Hall. There was a goodly attendance. President James F. Post and Secretary R. D. Cronly being present.

President Post stated that the meeting had been called to consider what should be done about the damage to the club house at Wrightsville Beach, so seriously damaged by the storm on the 31st of October. He stated what the condition of the house is, the storm having swept it off its foundations and left it partially wrecked on the beach, and invited suggestions as to what steps should be taken to protect the property for the present and subsequently what the nature of repairs should be.

After discussion, it was the sense of the meeting that the condition of the club house and the nature of the repairs necessary should be ascertained by experts, so that the club can take the proper steps in the matter. Thereupon, a motion was adopted that a special committee be appointed, consisting of Capt. E. W. Van C. Lucas, chief of the United States engineer corps; Mr. S. P. Adams, of the engineer department of the Atlantic Coast Line; Mr. H. E. Bonitz, the architect, and Capt. John H. Hanby, builder and contractor, all members of the club, for the purpose, jointly with the executive committee, of examining the condition of the club house and reporting back their recommendations to an adjourned meeting of the club.

Upon suggestion of Capt. T. D. Meares, the committee was requested to consider—first, the cost of restoring the club house as near as possible to its condition prior to the storm; second, to report not only on the cost of repairing the house but to make an estimate of the cost of improvements to the building, including the addition of a second story and the extension of a platform from the club house to the railroad track, etc.

President Post stated that Mr. George R. French, president of the Wilmington Seacoast Railway Company, informed him that the railroad company, as soon as possible, will rebuild its track along the beach, and that from the Carolina Yacht Club house to the southern end of the beach the new track will be run twenty-five or thirty feet nearer to the Banks channel, so as to give a straight track. This, President Post said, would enable the Atlantic Yacht Club to move its club house farther back from the ocean without interfering with the right of way of the railroad. It is understood that the purpose of the railroad company is to build the track perfectly straight up and down the beach and that in order to do this some of the low land along the Banks channel will be filled in.

President Post requested that the members of the club, between now and the adjourned meeting, consider some plan for raising the funds necessary to repair or rebuild the club house. He stated that it had been suggested that funds might be raised by reducing the initiation fee so as to increase the membership to 250, and he asked that this matter be thought over.

Upon suggestion of Captain Meares, the members of the club were requested to consider the best of three plans to raise funds, viz:

First—As to assessing the members an amount to be paid in monthly instalments.

Second—As to increasing the membership.

Third—As to mortgaging the property of the club

Mr. R. D. Cronly moved that when the meeting adjourns it shall do so till 8.15 P. M. next Thursday, November 16th, at the room of the Board of Audit and Finance, to hear the report of the committee as to the condition of the property, to consider the best means of raising funds for repairs, and for the transaction of such other business as is necessary. The motion was adopted.

The president urged that the full membership be present at the meeting at next Thursday night.

On motion, the meeting then adjourned.

Sudden Death of Mrs. John Knight.

The friends of Mr. John Knight will deeply sympathize with him in the death of his wife, Mrs. Susan Ann Knight. She died suddenly last night at 10.15 o'clock at her home on Market street between Third and Fourth streets. While seated in a chair she was seized with an attack of heart trouble that carried her off in about an instant.

Mrs. Knight was a native of Bristol, Eng., and was aged 50 years. She leaves a daughter about 12 years of age and a son about 8 years old.

The funeral will take place at St. James' Church this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

An Approaching Marriage.

Mrs. E. R. Daggett yesterday mailed invitations to friends for the marriage of her daughter, Miss Julia Worth, to Mr. B. Oscar Stone, a popular and successful wholesale grocer of Wilmington. The ceremony will be solemnized at high noon, November 22nd, at St. James' Episcopal Church, after which the bride and groom will leave over the Seaboard Air Line for an extended bridal tour, embracing a number of places of interest in the North.

COUNTY TREASURER'S MONTHLY REPORT.

Audited by the Commissioners Yesterday. Routine Business Considered at Meeting—The County Fence.

There was an adjourned meeting of the Board of County Commissioners yesterday afternoon, Col. Moore, the chairman, and Commissioners Alexander and Holmes being present.

Upon application of Mr. W. B. Canady for a slight change in the course of the line fence on his lands, it was ordered that with the consent of the Wilmington Iron Works, the contractors for building the fence, the changes petitioned for could be made if there was not attendant thereto an increase of expense for the county. The proposition is solely agreed to by the board upon condition that as long as Mr. Canady keeps the fence in repair the agreement will stand, but if the fence is not kept up by Mr. Canady, it shall be moved to the line proscribed in the original plat.

It was ordered that Robert H. Stamper have an abatement in the tax assessment of his property in Block 198 from $6,000 to $3,500 and his personal property be listed at $1,000.

It appearing to the board that an error was made in the tax valuation of the permanent and rolling stock of the Wilmington Street Railway Co., an abatement of $8,000 was allowed.

Receipts—Balance from September account, $3,832.43; W. H. Biddle, marriage licenses, $25.35; Clerk Superior Court, $6.00; Sheriff Walter G. Total—$2,473.22.

The report shows a balance to November account of $24,050.99. There is a balance also to the credit of the special county fund of $732.44.

The new Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. held their first annual meeting for the fiscal year last evening at the Association building on Front street. The only important matter of general interest considered at the meeting was the election of officers for the ensuing year. Selections were made as follows:

President—W. L. Latta.
Vice President—W. B. Cooper.
Recording Secretary—W. R. Taylor.
Treasurer—C. W. Worth.
Committee on By-Laws — C. C. Brown (chairman), W. L. Latta and W. B. Cooper.

The first service of the week of prayer at the Association will be held Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Rev. Milton A. Barber will be the special speaker and his theme will be "Prayer." An interesting musical programme is being arranged, which will include a solo by Miss Anna D. Slagle and a duet by Mrs. W. L. Latta and Mrs. F. A. Muse. Mrs Mattie Chasten will be the accompanist.

Opera House.

Last night the strongest bill produced as yet in the repertoire of the Mabel Paige Company was presented, much to the delight of a large audience. If judging from applause is any criterion or the beaming countenances of the audience go for any thing, every one seemed well pleased with the four-act comedy, "The Other Girl."

The farewell performance will be given to-night.

At the matinee this afternoon the company will present "The Little Cadet." Don't forget that each child in the audience will be presented with a gift. Prices for the matinee have been placed at 10 cents for children; adults 20 cents.

OBSEQUIES OF MR. HARRISS.

The Funeral Took Place Yesterday Morning at the First Presbyterian Church Interment at Oakdale.

The funeral of the lamented Mr. George Harriss, who departed this life on Thursday morning, took place yesterday morning at 10.30 o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church. The cortege moved at 10.20 A. M. from the residence, 515 Princess street, headed by Plantagent Commandery, No. 1, Knights Templar, marching by twos, and upon arrival at the church the Knights formed in open column from the sidewalk to the church. The funeral procession then passed through the ranks into the church, where was assembled a large number of relatives and friends of the departed. The Chamber of Commerce, of which the deceased had been a life long member, attended in a body.

The solemn services were conducted by the Rev. Hay Watson Smith, and were opened with a feeling invocation. Miss Anna Sprunt, the organist, played, and the singing was by a choir consisting of Mrs. W. L. Latta, soprano; Mrs. E. G. Woody, alto; Mr. C. H. Cooper, tenor, and Mr. H. K. Holden, basso. The first hymn was "Rock of Ages" which was touchingly sung. Then followed scriptural reading from the Psalms and Revelations, after which an earnest prayer was offered up by the officiating clergyman. The choir then sang the hymn beginning, "Hark! Hark! My Soul, Angelic Songs Are Swelling," and while the last verse was being sung the funeral procession moved out from the church. A large cortege followed the remains to Oakdale cemetery where all that was mortal of one of Wilmington's most prominent citizens was laid in the tomb. The grave was covered with beautiful floral tributes.

The pall bearers were as follows: Honorary, Col. John Wilder Atkinson, Col. F. W. Kerchner, Mr. James H. Chadbourn and Mr. Samuel Northrop; active, Hon. John D. Bellamy, Dr. Thos. S. Burbank, E. K. Bryan, Esq., Messrs. Geo. W. Kidder, W. H. Northrop and H. P. West.

ESCAPED FROM CITY PRISON.

Two Negroes Charged With Implication in the Hughes Murder Filed Their Way Out of the Guard House.

Wm. Gilliam and Lee Blocker, two young colored men charged with complicity in the murder of the old Confederate soldier Hughes, who was beaten into insensibility during May of the present year and left to die in a box car at the "Y" of the Coast Line in the northeastern suburbs of the city, made good their escape from the city prison yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock and they have not since been recaptured.

The negroes were confined in the inner corridor of the steel cells of the prison and gained their freedom by filing away the burr of an iron pinion which held in place a hasp, which fastened to a staple on the outside by means of a heavy brass padlock. In some way unknown to the custodians of the prison the negroes secured an ordinary hand saw file and worked silently, probably for several days, until the pinion could be slipped out, leaving the hasp to fall to one side, freeing the door to swing at ease upon its hinges. From the corridor of the prison proper the negroes made their way to the outer corridor, then into the basement of the City Hall and out the gate of the hall enclosure to the street.

Just as they gained the street several "trusties" who were sawing wood in the yard discovered them and notified the hall officers. Policeman B. R. King gave chase, but they eluded capture and went eastward up Chesnut street.

Gilliam was arrested several months ago, and besides being charged with implication in the Hughes murder, the particulars of which are well remembered by STAR readers, he was wanted as defendant in one of the numerous brass stealing cases which were prosecuted in the early part of the present year by the Atlantic Coast Line. He would without a doubt have been convicted of the latter charge.

Blocker was captured upon the occasion of the murder of the negro over a crap game in the house of "Sing" Nixon more recently, and while the charge of gambling would probably have been preferred against him, he, too, was thought to have been one of the murderers of Hughes.

Norwegian Barque Johanne.

The wreck report of the Norwegian barque Johanne, in sand ballast from Barbadoes to Wilmington, which had such a rough experience with the storm at the Cape Fear Quarantine Station, was yesterday filed at the Custom House by Capt. M. Thorsen, master. The vessel is of wood; was built 26 years ago and is valued at $8,000. The estimated loss to the vessel is $1,500; insurance, $4,000.

SATURDAY MORNING, NOV. 11.

PROTECT THE FORESTS.

The South is making splendid strides in material progress, in the building of cotton and woollen mills, in the development of her mining resources and the building of iron mills, in the building of railroads, and of terminal facilities at her seaports, and also in marked improvement in her agricultural methods, all of which are contributing to her wealth and power. But there is one subject in which she has not shown the thoughtful interest she should have shown, but on the contrary gross thoughtlessness, bordering almost on insanity. This is lack of care of her forests. The case is well put in the following, which we clip from the Nashville American:

"In the paper prepared by Erwin Craighead, of Mobile Register, and read at the Huntsville Industrial convention, the following important statement concerning the present destruction of the timber interests of the South was made:

"One must view with deep concern the waste of good material and fine opportunity owing to the absence of any good system of forestry in the South. There is as yet no need of more cleared space for agriculture.

There are fertile lands everywhere that are ready for the plow, but uncultivated, while the pine clearings are not as favorable for agricultural efforts. So the maintenance of the forests should be encouraged. The trees that are cut down should be replaced by new. The forests should be helped to replace themselves, yet this is not done. But, in truth, the forest is hindered from doing what it would naturally do if permitted. The custom is to use the pine levels for cattle ranges and burn the woods every spring, in order that the new grass can come up early and be easily obtained by the cattle. Forest fires prevail at this season all through the pine region of the South, and not only destroy a great deal of standing timber, especially in the turpentine orchards, whose rosin has run down the trunks of the trees to the ground, but burn also the pine saplings which in the season hage attained a height of a few feet, but are not big enough to escape the flames. Students of the forest deplore the great loss thus entailed, not only upon the present generation, but upon all the future, for it must inevitably happen in time we shall have in this country no pine worth the sawing. A wise forestry law, and a strict enforcement thereof, would permit the sawing of all the timber that it is fit to turn into lumber and would protect the growing trees and thus insure a continuance of the supply from generation to generation. It is a matter of the utmost importance, and one to which Southern legislators should at once turn their attention.

"Mr. Craighead spoke truely when he said this is a matter to which Southern legislators should immediately turn their attention. What should be established, however, is a national forestry commission, whose duty it would be to recommend laws for the protection of the forests of the forests of the country. The individual States will never do mach toward this work. We have time and time again suggested that something should be done in this State to prevent the destruction of timber lands, which is daily progressing, but it seems well nigh impossible to get any remedial legislation on the subject. The matter in Tennessee as well as in other Southern States is, there is no money for the work, consequently the National Government must take if up.

"At the present rate of destruction it is calculated that in thirty years the entire South will be denuded of yellow pine lumber. Here in Tennessee white oak is being cut in a most reckless manner, and the worst feature of it is that the lands which produce the forests are being destroyed after the manner described by Mr. Craighead, the present growth being cut away without a thought for the future.

"One of the last acts of Mr. Cleveland's career as President was to set aside certain tracts of land as forest reserves, but none of these, we believe, include Southern timber land.

"It is not necessary to dwell on the reasons why the forests should not be allowed to be ruthlessly destroyed. What would be thought of the farmer who would apply a certain fertilizer to his land which would raise him one immense crop of wheat, but which would make the land barren forever after? But in the present course we are robbing posterity of its right; we are robbing ourselves of a supply of timber whose need we shall soon begin to feel; we are allowing a condition to be produced which will bring a scarcity of rainfall, for the ratio of the amount of forest land and rainfall is in almost direct proportion, and we are, in short, in the words of the ancient saw, preparing to kill the goose that is laying the golden egg. Let us stop short and mend our ways. A national law is needed, and every member of Congress from the Southern States should join in the attempt to pass one before it is too late."

What is everybody's business is nobody's business, and this is one of the reasons why so little legislative protection has been given to our forests; but some of these days when the forest acreage has been practically denuded, then our legislators may realize the importance of doing something, as they are now doing in some of the States north of us. If they had shown the same lead-mule sense when their forests were being ruthlessly destroyed that they are showing now it would not be necessary to spend many thousands of dollars annually to plant trees and to protect what they have. Forest fires, sometimes caused by sparks from locomotives, more frequently by the culpable carelessness of hunters and campers, and often by the culpable acts of a man with a few cattle who sets fire to make better grazing for cattle that are probably not worth ten dollars a head, do incalculable damage annually. We remember once riding on a train through a burning district in Alabama which covered hundreds of square miles, where the flames could be seen at night leaping into and devouring the stately pines, a fire started by some fellow to make grazing range for some scrub cattle which were of little use to him or any one else. If the timber destroyed by that fire were properly valued the grazing ground for those scrub cattle cost probably a million dollars, perhaps more.

Another cause of forest destruction is hogs which range through the forests and when feed is scarce root up the tender roots of the young trees sprouted from dropped seed, thus destroying a growth which would in a short while rehabilitate the denuded or burned forest. All this could be in a great measure if not totally prevented by stringent legislation, provided it was enforced and not permitted to become a dead letter.

The day is coming, and it isn't far in the future, when an acre of good timber will be worth more than an acre of cotton or grain is now, hence our forest acres should have as much careful guarding as our cotton and grain acres have, if not more, for the growing of cotton and grain in the future will be largly dependent upon the care that we take of our forests now.

THE SOUTH'S INDUSTRIAL PROGRESS.

In its summary of industrial progress in the South for the past week the Baltimore Manufacturers' Record notes the following:

"One of the most significant developments in Southern industry during the past week is the official announcement to the Manufacturers' Record that the Republic Iron & Steel Company has completed arrangements for the construction of a new furnace at Thomas, Ala., and also that a second one will be built in the near future. This is one of the results of the greater interest which has been taken by Northern capital in Southern development. Another instance is the completion of a deal whereby the entire assets of the West Point Mining Company, which controlled a large amount of the brown ore fields of Northern Alabama, have been sold to the United States Iron Company, which has just been organized in New Jersey with a paid up capital of a million dollars by Mr. John W. Gates, President of the American Steel & Wire Company—a corporation with a capital stock of $90,000,000—C. G. Gates, William Eden born, Col. I. L. Ellwood and others. These properties aggregate about 6,000 acres of land, upon which it is estimated there are 30,000,000 tons of brown hematite ore averaging 52 per cent. metallic iron and worth at a very conservative estimate at least $1,000,000. The gentlemen who negotiated the deal are expert iron men, and they have rendered the Northern Alabama and Tennessee iron ore sections a great service. The new centre of these immense properties are already operating the ore bed at West Point and Pinkney mines, and they are increasing their facilities preparatory to a full development of the entire purchase.

"The iron City Mining Company, recently organized, has begun operations near Anniston. One ore washer has been erected and another is soon to follow. Though hardly full fledged, this company has already made contracts that will absorb its output up to 1000. J. C Lacy, who is interested in the brown ore fields around Cave Springs, Ga., has made contracts for delivery in the Birmingham district of 500 tons daily. An explanation of the fact that Birmingham is reaching out further and increasing its ore haul is that richer fields have been available by railroad extensions and the greater cheapness of mining is more than compensation for increased transportation charges. As a matter of fact, the development of the mineral resources of the Birmingham region has but commenced.

"In a letter to the Manufacturers' Record, Dr. Cuyler Smith, of Atlanta, Ga., writing of the activity in the construction of cotton mills in Georgia, says: 'Georgia cotton factories are establishing gins in connection with their mills. Their plan is to gin cotton free of charge, bale it at their own expense, return the bagging and the ties to the farmers, and pay for the cotton thus obtained at the market price, and frequently giving a sharp advance, say from one-half to one cent per pound, to attract cotton from the surrounding country. This is done in order to save in local freights, which are often quite heavy. The Whittier Cotton Mills in this county, situated on the Chattahoochee river, have made it a practice for several years of returning the bagging and the ties to the farmers after the cotton is consumed.' The Newnan, Ga., Cotton Mills have decided to spend $40,000 for enlargements and improvements, which include an 85-foot addition to the present mill and 4,000 new spindles, making the total equipment 10,000 spindles. The Buffalo Manufacturing Company, of Stubbs, N. C., will double its equipment of 2,000 spindles; the Roswell, Ga., Manufacturing Co. has decided to spend $45,000 for new machinery; the Norwood, N. C., Manufacturing Company is preparing to install 2,666 additional spindles, and the Canton, Miss., Cotton Mills will build a 5,000 spindle mill."

In addition to these it enumerates many other new industrial enterprises of various kinds, representing in the aggregate an investment of about $6,750,000.

FOR ALL LUNG TROUBLE

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND RELIEVES PAIN.

Mrs. Margaret Bethel, of Brainerd, Minn., writes:

"For thirty years I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia in the head and also with rheumatism in the whole body, I began taking Paine's Celery Compound, and soon found that I was much better. Before taking the Compound, my life was such a burden that I almost prayed to lay it down. I was bedfast every two weeks with horrible pain in the head, back and neck until I was almost crazy. I am able to do harder work and more of it to-day than for twenty-five years. I am really enjoying life again, thanks to Paine's Celery Compound. I am satisfied that my life has been prolonged many years by its use."

Paine's Celery Compound is a great reconstructant The weakened, inflamed nerves are built up and the nervous force increased. The stomach, liver and kidneys are kept in healthy action. The body is kept free of acid blood and morbid waste material; is made healthy and free from pain.

DIVERSIFIED INDUSTRIES

As the permanent prosperity of the agricultural industry in the South depends upon diversified farming so does the permanent prosperity of the South depend upon diversified manufacturing industries. We are making progress in this, and more than is generally thought. We confess that the following, which we find in the Charleston News and Courier, clipped from the New York Evening Post, telling what a Northern man saw in an Alabama "country store," came to us somewhat as a revelation:

"I was interested in noting the results of an investigation as to the places where the goods sold in this Southern store are manufactured I found that the stoves were cast in Memphis; the soap, of which there were from fifty to a hundred boxes piled one on top of another, was made in Nashville; the unbleached cotton was made in Anniston, Ala., and a considerable quantity of the cheap cotton dress goods came from the mills at Tuscaloosa, in the same State. The heads of the nail kegs showed that their contents were made in Ashland. The rolled oats were milled and packed at Birmingham. The boots and shoes were manufactured in St. Louis, Atlanta and Nashville; the furniture in Memphis, and the tinware in Memphis and Atlanta. The flour, naturally, came from St. Louis and the tobacco from Virginia. The clothing, of which a very large stock was carried, was manufactured in Louisville and the brooms were made in the same city. The only articles which I found bearing a Northern stamp were the sewing machines, made in Cleveland, Ohio, and the bleached cottons, which bore the imprint of Providence, Rhode Island."

That's a pretty good showing for a "country store" and also for industrial progress in the South. If the same could be said of country stores generally and of the city stores, what a story it would tell and how many millions it would annually add to the wealth of this section.

A Night of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham, of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought she must soon die from Pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying it had more than once saved her life, and had cured her of Consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvellous medicine is guaranteed to cure all Throat, Chest and Lung Diseases. Only 50c and $1 00. Trial bottles 10c at ROBT. R. BELLAMY'S drug store. †

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Newbern Journal: The case of James Chapman, on trial at Jacksonville on charge of beating his son to death, was decided by Judge Bryan. The verdict was that the man was guilty of assault and the penalty was that he be hired out to work on the roads in New Hanover county for a period of nine months.

— Weldon News: A three-year old child, son of Mr. W. T. Herbert, who is a tenant on one of Capt W. T. Jenkins' farms, near Aurelian Springs, was so badly burned Saturday that he died that night. The child caught on fire accidentally while alone in the room and was fatally burned before assistance arrived.

— Kinston Free Press: During the three months ending October 31st there were 5,502,594 pounds of tobacco sold on the Kinston market, for which $350,059 97 was paid. —— Charlie Bond, the negro who killed Hymbrick Suggs, colored, in Greene county Saturday, was caught by Deputy Sheriff F. C. Moseley Monday night in the upper portion of Greene county, at the house of a negro woman.

— Durham Sun: A few nights ago Deputy Marshal Lloyd and others captured a large copper blockade still eight miles northeast of Hillsboro. About a thousand gallons of beer and twenty-five gallons of whiskey were destroyed. The distillery was in operation at the time that the officers came upon it. Three men, two whites and one negro, were working around the still. When the officers made their appearance, they ran and were not captured.

— Monroe Enquirer: The Black gold mine, in Vance township, is turning out a high grade of ore. Captain Younts says that the ore now being taken from the mine is worth $100 to the ton. —— To show something of the shortness of the cotton crop in this county we will state that Mr. W. M. Matthews, of Sandy Ridge township, who is one of the best cotton farmers in this county, has gathered twenty five bales of cotton from the same land which last year produced forty-five bales.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— Elections were held in twelve States Tuesday, but as to settling any national questions it's about six of one and half a dozen of the other. —Philadelphia Times, Ind.

—— Polygamy in the Sulu islands, where it is a recognized institution, is, of course, of subject to be handled with the utmost care. It is a question, however, that may may solve itself after the ladies of Sulu learn Parisian fashions, for there are presumably but few men in Sulu who could long stay prosperous with from three to fifteen wives clamoring for new spring bonnets.—Chicago News, Ind.

—— Great Britain is congratulating herself upon the general and warm friendship for her on the part of the United States that is being evidenced in the American press. Meantime the Literary Digest, which says it has conducted a thorough canvass of the country, reports that the United States show no preponderance of sympathy either way in the South African war.—Savannah News, Dem.

A COMMON TROUBLE.

Poor Hatches In the Early Part of the Year Cause Difficulties.

A correspondent in Connecticut writes us a letter asking a question which will be answered by a good many this summer and fall, and it is a question not easy to answer. He is just starting in the poultry business, intending to make broilers and eggs for market his chief reliance, and says:

"Owing to my starting so late I was not able to get out the number of chicks I needed, and owing to the very poor place I had to run my incubators, and very poor eggs, I had bad hatches, and the chicks would not live, so that now I have only about 400 chicks on my farm when I wanted 1,200, or at least 1,000. Please tell me what it is best for me to do. Shall I keep on hatching, or shall I buy year old hens or pullets in order to fill my house? I would need about 200, but I do not feel as if I could stand the expense. Still, if I bought them now, I would have something coming in, and it is all outgo at present. I have got to have an income this winter from my poultry. If I bought 200 White Wyandotte pullets or yearling hens from breeders, what would be the cheapest I could expect to get them for? I only want them for eggs for market."

There are many in the same unfortunate condition, and just how to meet the difficulty is a puzzling problem. If he buys yearling hens that are in good condition, he should have a fair income from eggs for three or four months; but then he has got to carry them through the molt, with only a few eggs to pay for the food. True, if he fed high, being liberal with the meat meal, he would carry them through the molt promptly and have a greater number of eggs during the period; but there would be the danger of throwing them out of condition by too high feeding, congesting the bowels and overstimulating the liver, inducing disease. Then, too, in buying year old hens there is danger of getting a good deal that one does not pay for and does not want. There has been much sickness in the flocks this past winter and spring, and a poultryman whom we visited the other day still has rattling birds in the flocks that he is proposing to sell as year olds. Probably there are seeds of roup in such birds, and our friend runs the risk of buying what he does not want in that direction. He would most certainly buy lice in any year old birds, and there would be a new difficulty to be met, but firmness in applying the remedies would get over that trouble, and if he rigidly prevented the broughten birds coming in contact with his own chickens he would avoid contamination.

Undoubtedly he could buy year old hens much cheaper than pullets, probably at about half the price, but would it be cheapest in the end? Conceding that the eggs for hatching which he would get from the year old hens would be larger and hatch larger and better chicks, although fewer of them, would he be better off to put the money into year old hens and carry them through the molt, or buy early hatched and well matured pullets in October, with the practical certainty of getting a good egg yield through the period of high prices? We would incline to the latter if there was a probability of getting the early hatched and well matured pullets, but here again is another difficulty. The chicken crop is a light one, hatches have been poor everywhere, and the early hatched and well matured pullets are not so abundant as some years. This undoubtedly means that those having them will want higher prices for them, and rightly, too, because they are worth dollars either to keep or to sell.

Our friend asks about buying "cheapest," and there is a rock on which many a bark has been shipwrecked. The cheapest are very far from being the best, and it is generally the case that the best are the cheapest in the end. We know the story of the wrecking of ex-Vice President Morton's plant, and the writer is of the opinion that a disposition to buy "cheap" was at the bottom of that failure. The superintendent set a low figure at which he would buy his birds, and he got cheap birds, and got with them a great deal that he did not want.

The first stock was found after a time to be hopelessly diseased, and the birds were killed and cremated. Another stock was bought, the superintendent going into the New York market and buying the best he could find there, the result being that he got another poor lot, the outcome of it all being that the poultry department was continually running behind and was finally shut up.

We hope our Connecticut friend will not make any such mistake. There is such a thing as buying too cheap, and we urge him to buy of reputable breeders who will "stand behind" the birds they sell and who will see to it that the birds they send out are good, are sound in constitution and reasonably sure to do good service next winter.—Farm Poultry.

Poultry Pointers.

A Kentucky hen has adopted three quail as part of her family.

The shell of an egg contains about 50 grains of salt of lime, or about 20 grains of pure uncombined lime, besides the lime that is in the mineral matter of the white and yolk. The quality of the shell should be considered when feeding by selecting those foods which are richest in lime. To produce the shell of one egg there is needed 100 grains of lime.

If poultry are exposed to unusual conditions, as of transfer to other yards or traveling to and from shows, feed them well before they leave, making them sluggish and sleepy, and upon arrival or return give a meal of bread soaked in ale and squeezed dry or a mash in which is a stimulant of some other sort.

Favors the Newspaper.

Newspapers, when considered from an advertising standpoint, have everything in their favor. They reach both the masses and the classes, and they reach them with a frequency that commends itself as a shining virtue to the man who has something to sell. Moreover, a favorite newspaper cannot be supplanted in the hearts of its constituents by any other sort of publication, which insures it a permanency of circulation that cannot be duplicated.—Profitable Advertising.

Obnoxious Billboards.

Where the majority of the people in a town object to a certain billboard it is a question whether the advertiser gains anything by his persistency in keeping it up. The residents whom he thus offends can hardly be expected to be in a sufficiently receptive mind to make the advertising profitable.—Printers' Ink.

His Translation.

A good chairman story comes from the Antipodes. A dignified elder of a church was presiding at a charitable concert. A Miss Brown was to sing "Ora Pro Nobis," but at the last moment she changed her mind, and a note was passed to the chairman intimating that she would give "The Song That Reached My Heart."

He therefore made the following announcement, "Miss Brown will now sing 'Ora Pro Nobis,' which, being translated, means 'The Song That Reached My Heart.'"—London Chronicle.

HANGED FOR WIFE-MURDER.

Execution of Albert August Becker in Chicago—Crime Similar to the Luetgert Murder.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHICAGO, November 10.—Albert August Becker, the German butcher who on January 27th last murdered his wife, and afterwards chopped and boiled the remains in order to dispose of them, was hanged in the county jail at 12.05 o'clock this afternoon. Becker's neck was not broken by the fall, and it was sixteen minutes before he was pronounced dead.

On the scaffold Becker protested his innocence, and declared George Sutterlin, the father of his second wife, was the real murderer.

The case of August Becker in many ways bore a remarkable similarity to that of Adolph Luetgert. Both of the condemned men were butchers, and the motive for the crime was the same in both instances—the desire to get rid of the wife in order to marry a younger woman. The manner of committing the crimes was also much the same, both men, according to the testimony, being extremely brutal in the killing, and both using the same means to dispose of the body, by boiling and burning. It was proven at Becker's trial that after killing his wife he had chopped her body to pieces and burned the remains in the kitchen stove, afterwards burying the remains in various places. As in the case of Luetgert, the rings of the murdered wife played a large part in the testimony, leading to the conviction. Like Luetgert, also, Becker endeavored to explain his wife's disappearance by saying she had eloped with another man. Becker made several confessions. In his first statement he said he had drowned his wife in Lake Michigan. Later he endeavored to implicate in the crime the father of the woman whom he married after murdering his first wife, and to the last stuck to this version.

JEFFERSON DAVIS' MONUMENT

The United Daughters of the Confederacy Will Undertake the Work at the Request of Veterans.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RICHMOND, VA., November 10.—Today Hon. J. Taylor Ellyson, president of the Jefferson Davis Monument Association, appeared before the convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy and presented the resolution adopted by the United Confederate Veterans, asking the United Daughters to assume the responsibility of raising a monument to the memory of President Jefferson Davis. The rules were suspended and Mr. Ellyson made a statement as to the funds already subscribed, and after a full discussion of the matter the Daughters accepted the charge by an overwhelming majority.

The corner stone of the proposed monument was laid in Monroe park, in this city, in 1896, and it is designed that it shall be a memorial not only of Mr. Davis, but of the "Lost Cause." The monument fund now in the hands of the association and camps amounts to some $20,000.

The Daughters are at liberty to change the design that had been agreed upon.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Sensational Shooting Affair at Allentown, Pennsylvania.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ALLENTOWN, PA., November 10.—A sensationed murder and suicide occurred here this morning when Geo. W. Kern, proprietor of the Hotel Mecca, shot and instantly killed his wife and himself. The pair had not been living together for the past three months, owing to Kern's ill treatment of his wife. Mrs. Kern was employed in a laundry and when she boarded a trolley car at 6:30 o'clock this morning to go to her work her husband followed her and stood on the rear platform, displaying a revolver. When Mrs Kern observed him she ran screaming out of the front door of the car and sought the protection of about 200 wire mill employes, who had just finished work on the night shift. Kern hastened after her and twice pulled the trigger of the pistol but the weapon failed to discharge.

The husband then dragged his wife into his hotel and barricading the door with a chair, in full view of the crowd shot her dead. He ran into another room and there killed himself. Kern was 28 years of age and his wife 29.

THE RESULT STILL AN UNCERTAINTY.

Both Democrats and Republicans Claim a Victory in the Kentucky Election.

LEGISLATURE MAY DECIDE.

Intense Factional Feeling Aroused—Prominent Democratic Leaders Arrested On the Charge of Intimidation. Counting the Ballots.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

LOUISVILLE, KY., November 10.—Uncertainty regarding the result of Tuesday's election in that State is not likely to be removed for some time. Both sides still claim a victory, the State chairman of each party asserting that his ticket has a plurality of about 4,000. Newspaper returns from Republican sources, give Taylor a plurality of 3,438, while those from Democratic sources make Goebel's plurality 941. These latter cover all but thirty-five precincts in the State, although several reports from counties give estimated pluralities instead of actual. Of the missing precincts five are in Louisville, which went Republican this year, twenty are in strong Republican counties, and ten are in strong Democratic counties.

Feeling among the factions has been aggravated rather than allayed by the developments since Tuesday. Excited meetings are being held in many parts of the State to protest against frauds which it is alleged are contemplated by the leaders. Nothing short of the official count will determine the result, and it is a foregone conclusion that the announcement of that count will simply change the scene of conflict to the courts or the Legislature, where it will appear in the form of a contest.

The situation has not changed materially up to 1 P. M. The official count was begun to-day in all parts of the State by the county boards of canvassers. In this city a large crowd gathered at the court house, but there was no disturbance.

The latest claims, from newspaper returns, are a plurality of 963 for Goebel by the Times, and a plurality of 3,605 for Taylor, claimed by the Evening Post.

Democrats Arrested.

FRANKFORT, November 10.—Buford Williams, Wingate Thompson and Coleman Carr, prominent Democrats, have been arrested by a deputy United States marshal on warrants charging intimidation of colored voters on Tuesday. This makes nine warrants of this kind issued by the Federal court and it is understood that probably a hundred more will be issued.

CINCINNATI, O., November 10.—The Western Union Telegraph Company to-day issued its last bulletin on the Kentucky election, saying that with complete returns from ninety-four counties and nearly complete from twenty-three others, Taylor's plurality is 1,382. The two counties not reported—Leslie and Martin—in 1897 gave a Republican plurality of 1,135.

The Official Count Begins.

LOUISVILLE, KY., November 10.—The official count of the ballots cast on Tuesday was begun to-day through out the State. In this city a large crowd gathered at the court house. Representatives of all the parties were admitted by the commissioners, and the examination of the ballots proceed in an orderly manner. Judging from the progress already made the official count will show no great variation from the unofficial figures which give Louisville and Jefferson county to the Republicans by a plurality of about 3,000.

There was no change to-day in the claims of the party managers. The Democrats aver that Goebel will have a plurality of 5,000, while the nominee himself places it at 7,000. The Republicans claim Taylor is elected by a plurality of 4,000.

The Times (Goebel Democrat) has the following special from London, Kentucky:

"State Chairman A. W. Young, of the Democratic campaign committee, is at Barboursville, seeking to have the entire vote of Knox county thrown out. Numbers of affidavits alleging fraud and irregularities are being filed with the county board. It is believed Taylor's majority will be considerably reduced, if the county is not thrown out entirely.

"Official returns from Clay reduce Taylor's majority to 907.

"No changes have been made by the canvassing board of Laureat county so far. Taylor's majority will remain 903 though the Democrats will file affidavits with the State election board at Frankfort next Tuesday asking that three precincts be thrown out, which will reduce it."

The Times, also, has the following from Bradstown, Ky., concerning the count in progress there:

A serious technical error in the vote may increase Goebel's Nelson county plurality to 1,886. In the official count it was discovered that in every precinct except one W. P. instead of W. S. Taylor was voted for, and the one precinct, New Hope, gives W. S. Taylor, the Republican candidate, only 73, leaving the official vote as certified by the two Democratic commissioners as follows: Goebel, 1,959; W. S. Taylor, 73; William P. Taylor, 1,198. The Republican commissioners refused to certify to these figures.

Legislature Will Have to Decide.

FRANKFORT, KY., Nov. 10.—The Democratic State campaign committee, with a score of clerks, is busy to-night tabulating returns as telegraphed from the various county canvassing boards. Several counties are still out and in a number of those heard from to-day, the county boards will meet again to-morrow to pass on contested ballots which may materially affect the result.

The members of the committee claim that Goebel's vote was slightly increased by the official count to-day, and still claim his election by at least 4,000. The committee decline to give the vote by counties as received by it, and on which the claim of Goebel's election is based. It is conceded on all hands here that the result will not be definitely ascertained for at least two days, and that no matter which candidate may be elected the Legislature will finally have to settle a contest which is certain to be instituted for possession of the office.

THE WAR IN SOUTH AFRICA.

Meagre Advices From British Sources The Situation at Ladysmith—The Bombardment Continues.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Complete silence has again fallen upon affairs in South Africa. The British public must perforce be content with the brief stereotyped report which the censor allows to filter through from Cape Town. That this condition of things is no longer due to pressure of work or defective cables has been amply proven. The Eastern Telegraph Company reckons that the real delay in transmission is about two days. It is evident, therefore, that the censorship is responsible for the other two days of delay which seems to befall the dispatches.

It is believed that General Buller never expected to commence the campaign before Christmas, and it now looks as though this will be the case. Certainly no artillery can reach Durban before November 14th; and without additional guns, an advance from Estcourt would be impossible.

LONDON, November 10.—The British War Office has received from General Buller the following dispatch:

"Cape Town, November 9.—Have received by pigeon post from General White to day the following:

"'The bombardment at long range by heavy guns continues daily. A few casualties are occurring, but no serious harm is being done.

"'The Boers sent in to day a number of refugees from the Transvaal under a flag of truce. A flag of truce from Ladysmith met them outside the pickets. When the party separated the Boer guns fired on it before it reached our pickets.

"'The entrenchments are daily growing stronger, and the supply of provisions is ample.'"

LONDON, November 10.—The War Office, this evening, issued the following:

"From Buller, Cape Town, 12 40 P. M., by message from Buluwayo, dated November 3rd: A small convoy and escort under Spreckley, of Plumer's force, was attacked by Boers November 2nd. Six men are missing and they lost the convoy."

The War Office has also issued the following:

"A report having appeared in the South African papers that our artillery fired on the Geneva flag, General Buller telegraphs the following account of the incident given by the Standard and Diggers' News by the Rev. Mr. Martens, a Dutch clergyman with the Boers:

"'Directly after the first cannon shot the English thought our men were at the railway station and fired there. They were not, but one of the shots went through an ambulance. As soon as they found their mistake they ceased firing.'

"The ambulance, in accordance with the usages, should have been three miles from the field of battle, so the ambulance cannot claim the English broke the usages of civilized warfare; but I do not think the English would have fired on them had they known this. It was unintentional."

MOVEMENT OF COTTON.

New Orleans Cotton Exchange Statement Shows a Decrease As Compared With Last Year.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., November 10.—Secretary Hester's weekly New Orleans Cotton Exchange statement shows a decrease in the movement into sight compared with the seven days ending this date last year of 166,000 bales; a decrease for the same days year before last of 146,000, and an increase over the same time in 1896 of 43,000.

The amount brought into sight during the past week has been 399,438 bales, against 565,783 for the seven days ending this date last year, and 545,133 year before last. The total movement for the seventy-one days from September 1st to date is 3,385,007 bales, against 4,101,931 last year.

The movement since September 1st shows receipts at all United States ports of 2,266,403 bales, against 3,088,539 last year; overland across the Mississippi, Ohio and Potomac rivers to Northern mills and Canada, 381,015 against 239,748 last year; interior stocks in excess of those held at the close of the commercial year, 420,382, against 484,837 last year; Southern mill takings, 317,207, against 288,807 last year.

Foreign exports for the week have been 175,111 bales, against 330,685 last year, making the total thus far for the season, 1,502,704, against 1,902,444 last year.

The total takings of American mills, North and South and Canada, thus far for the season have been 913,336 bales, against 711,437 last year.

Stocks at the seaboard and twenty-nine leading Southern interior centres have increased during the week 105,369 bales, against an increase during the corresponding period last season of 147,100.

Including stocks left over at ports and interior towns from the last crop, and the number of bales brought into sight thus far for the new crop, the supply to date is 4,003,905 bales, against 4,369,497 for the same period last year.

COTTON CROP ESTIMATE.

Agricultural Department Says the Yield Will Not Exceed 9,500,000 Bales.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The monthly report of the statistician of the Department of Agriculture will state that the most thorough investigation of the cotton situation that has been made since 1895 has just been completed. Special agents from the Washington office have visited all the principal points in the cotton belt, investigating both acreage and production. Pending the receipt of the final reports as to picking, due December 1st, no detailed statement will be issued, but the statistician states that on the basis of the highest estimate of the area under cultivation for which the department can find any warrant, 23,500,000 acres, the crop cannot exceed 9,500,000 bales. This estimate is based on the most complete and trustworthy information.

The safe and office furniture of the Malvern (Ks.) bank were demolished by an explosion of dynamite touched off Thursday night by robbers, who then looted the place, securing $600 in money and several thousand dollars in notes and checks.

CAMPAIGN IN THE PHILIPPINES.

The Army and Navy Co-operated in the Movement On San Fabian.

VERY SPECTACULAR AFFAIR

The Gunboats Maintained a Terrific Bombardment While the Troops Landed. Town Captured—A Few Insurgents Killed or Wounded.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

MANILA, November 10.—The landing of American troops at San Fabian Tuesday was the most spectacular affair of the kind since Gen. Shafter's disembarkation at Daiquiri. The co-operation of the troops and the navy was complete. The gunboats maintained a terrific bombardment for an hour, while the troops rushed waist-deep through the surf, under a heavy but badly aimed rifle fire from the insurgent trenches, and charged right and left, pouring volley after volley at the fleeing rebels. Forty Filipinos were captured, mostly non commissioned officers. Several insurgent dead and five wounded were found in a building which had suffered considerably from the bombardment. The town was well fortified. The sand dunes were rivetted with bamboo twenty feet thick, which afforded a fine cover.

Insurgents Driven Out.

When the transports arrived in the gulf they found the gunboats Princeton, Bennington and others waiting. After consultation with General Wheaton, Commander Knox of the Princeton and Commander Sheridan of the Bennington, anchored two miles off shore. The gunboats formed a line inside; the Helena, Callao and Manila close in shore. With the first gun of the bombardment the small boats were filled rapidly, without confusion by Major Cronite's battalion of the Twenty-third infantry, and Captain Buck's battalion of the 13th infantry. While the lines of boats moved shoreward the gunboats poured the full force of their batteries into the trenches, soon forcing the insurgents to flee through the burrows dug back of the trenches. About 200 men held their places until the keels of the boats grated on the shore when their Mauser bullets commenced to sing overhead.

Troops Behaved Splendidly.

The battalions formed in good order. Captain Buck, with Pierce's and Patton's companies, pursued the insurgents on the left, into the bamboo thickets. On the right was a frail foot-bridge across the river, leading to the town. General Wheaton, personally commanding, ordered a charge across the bridge, and Captain Howland, of his staff, led Coleman's and Elliott's companies of the Thirteenth and Shield's company of the Twenty-third, who behaved splendidly under their first fire, into the town, which was found to be nearly deserted except by the aged and some Spaniards who had hidden in the buffalo wallows and who came out shouting delightedly toward the Americans.

Two companies of the Thirty-third had a skirmish along the Dagupan road with the retreating Filipinos.

The troops camped in the rain during the night and in the morning General Wheaton established his headquarters in a church, quartered his men in the houses, and sent the captured Filipinos beyond the outposts, with orders not to return.

The inhabitants describe all the roads as practically impassable, and say they believe Aguinaldo has secreted a yacht in the river Longapo, near Subiga, for use in his flight when he finds his capture is inevitable.

Feeling in Washington.

WASHINGTON, November 10.—Interest is felt in the War Department over Aguinaldo's sudden change of base northeastward from Tarlac to Bayombong, about seventy-five miles distant. There are numerous spellings of the latter place, but the form given is the one most generally adhered to on the maps in possession of the War Department. The most interesting feature of the situation is that Aguinaldo has been forced out of the Tagalo country in a region to the north, where Tagalo is not spoken and where the mountains are filled Negritos and other savage tribes who are hostile to the Tagalos.

Secretary Root feels no concern over the move of Aguinaldo to a new base of operations at Bayombong. The Secretary said to-day that the move was distinctly retrograde. It was in the nature of a retreat after finding that his former base was untenable. Throughout the War Department the view prevails that Aguinaldo's move does not materially change the campaign plans.

HANGING AT GREENVILLE.

Execution of Charles Joyner, the Dongola Murderer—5,000 People Present.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RALEIGH, N. C., November 10.—Elias Joyner, the Dongola murderer, was hanged at Greenville, N. C., today in the presence of 5,000 people. The drop fell at 11.35 and life was extinct in twelve minutes. The body was cut down in twenty minutes. His neck was broken in the fall and the body showed only a slight convulsion.

The execution was without mishap. The condemned man made a statement on the gallows that he alone was guilty of the crime and that if others were punished for it the punishment would fall on innocent parties. Numerous questions were asked him for the purpose of ferreting out the matter further, but he firmly adhered to the statement that he only was guilty.

N. C. TOBACCO ASSOCIATION.

Call Issued to Planters to Meet in Raleigh December Sixth to Organize for Mutual Protection.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RALEIGH, N. C., November 10.—President J. Bryan Grimes, of the North Carolina Tobacco Association, to-day issued a call to the tobacco planters of the State to meet in Raleigh on December 6th. Planters in every tobacco growing county are requested to form co-associations and send delegates, as many as they wish, to this convention. In counties where there is no local organization individual growers are urged to attend, so that if possible all the tobacco growing sections of the State will be represented. Planters from Virginia and South Carolina are also asked to attend the convention.

"The continually diminishing prices," says President Grimes, in his call, "have been keenly felt by every planter, and it is hoped that in this convention some practical plan may be evolved by which producers with judicious, conservative and persistent concert of action may better their condition. If the prevailing low prices are due to over production we should face the situation and endeavor to remedy it. If it is found that the price is fixed by arbitrary methods, we should vigorously protest and determine to make that protest effectual. Every intelligent farmer should recognize the advantages to be secured by intelligent organization and determined co-operation."

YELLOW FEVER AT TAMPA.

Two Cases and One Death—No Fear of Spread of the Disease.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., November 10.—The State board of health announces two cases and one death from yellow fever at Port Tampa City. A vigorous quarantine of the place and of the docks was at once instituted and later dispatches this evening declare that no excitement exists nor is there any indication of an exodus whatever. Dr. Porter, State health officer, declares that owing to the lateness of the season there is no fear of any spread of the disease.

The fever at Key West is dying out and is very mild at Miami, where there were no new cases to-day, but two deaths.

IN THE PROCESSION.

A New York Town That Will Not Stay Behind.

The city of Cohoes, situated at the junction of the Hudson and Mohawk rivers, is one of New York's most enterprising towns. Its inhabitants are imbued with the spirit of progress and are never content to stand idle and allow any good thing to escape by reason of lack of energy on their part. They are keen to grasp every opportunity that presents itself, and even make the opportunity. The Cohoes Dispatch recently printed a summary of the advantages enjoyed by the citizens, with the view of attracting others, as follows:

Cohoes contains four banks, a city hospital, two good hotels, three public halls, two iron foundries, one large brewery, an old ladies' home, 40 knitting mills, a new modern theater, three steam railroads, the great Cohoes falls, several bottling works and a population of about 25,000.

There are unsurpassed shipping facilities, three electric trolley car lines, the best lighted city in the country, a monthly payroll of more than $250,000, a handsome and commodious new city hall, many social and religious organizations and the best water power in the United States.

It has the largest cotton cloth mill in the world, cotton mills employing about 4,000 persons, the largest single knitting mill in the world, a fine new sewer system in process of construction, the Hudson river, which is navigable to the Atlantic seaboard; connected with many cities and villages by trolley cars and two state canals, one extending to Buffalo and the other to Lake Champlain.

There are two missions, one Baptist church, one Reformed church, five Catholic churches, two Methodist churches, two Episcopal churches, one Presbyterian church, one academy, one public high school, the Sacred Heart college and 13 commodious public school buildings.

It is a city nestled in an area of population approximating more than 50,000, including cities and villages of which Cohoes is the largest.

Included in the industries of the place are a rolling mill, iron pipe works, box manufactories, a concern for manufacturing ink for the United States government exclusively, a scale works and a large shirt and collar manufactory.

It has the finest residential sites, situated on an elevated plateau overlooking a stretch of country extending to the Catskill mountains on the south and the Vermont mountains on the north, all of which sites are accessible by trolley cars; the repair works for the eastern division of the state canals and the best places in the state for new manufacturing concerns.
